Insights & Recommendations

Grounded in the dataset — sessions, channels, demographics

Lift Low-Consumption Days (Tue & Thu)

Thursday (745 sessions) and Tuesday (1,105) trail Sunday (1,823) and Wednesday (1,853). Programme proven-engagement channels into these slots with formats that match the short, evening-skewed viewing pattern.

Mid-week Sport Mini-Series

Thursday and Tuesday are the lowest-volume days. Fill them with short-form sport recap shows (15–20 min) leveraging the strong pull of Supersport Blitz and the cricket franchise — both already over-index on high days.

Tuesday "Trace Sessions" Music Block

Trace TV is the #1 channel on low-consumption days. Programme exclusive Tuesday-night music premieres and afro-pop showcases to make Tuesday a destination night.

Snackable Evening Reality (E! style)

Average session is only 8.3 min and 63% of views are <5 min. Curate short reality / lifestyle episodes (E! Entertainment over-indexes on low days) optimised for the evening 18:00–21:00 window where low-day demand concentrates.

Kids Afternoon Loop

Cartoon Network and Boomerang perform well. Add a guaranteed Tue/Thu 14:00–17:00 kids block to capture after-school viewing and pull in family co-viewing.

Initiatives to Grow the User Base

Six high-leverage plays drawn from the demographic and engagement gaps in the data — geography, gender, age segments, and session retention.

Win KwaZulu-Natal & North West

KZN has 481 users but only 255 sessions, and North West has 161 users with zero recorded sessions — both are massively under-engaged. Run regionally targeted campaigns, local-language content (isiZulu, Setswana) and on-the-ground retail bundles.

Close the Gender Gap

Male viewers outnumber female 8.7-to-1 in sessions. Commission lifestyle, drama and reality verticals (Africa Magic, E!, Trace) and run a women-focused acquisition campaign to unlock the largest untapped segment.

Family & Senior Bundles

Minors (174 users) and seniors (50 users) are tiny segments. Launch a Family Plan with Cartoon Network/Boomerang plus a low-cost Senior Plan featuring news (CNN) and classic content to broaden household penetration.

Re-engage the 8.3-min Drop-off

Two-thirds of sessions end in under 5 minutes. Add personalised "continue watching" rails, autoplay next episode, and push-notification nudges 24h after a short session — a proven retention lift for OTT.

Live-Sport Acquisition Funnel

Sport (Cricket World Cup, Supersport Live, Blitz) drives the high-consumption days. Use free live-event windows as a top-of-funnel offer with a one-tap subscribe CTA at the final whistle.

Refer-a-Friend with Trace & Boomerang

The two strongest engagement channels appeal to clearly distinct audiences. Bundle a 14-day referral free pass tied to those flagship channels — segmenting offers by the inviter's viewing profile.
